Going Back to the Basics

Famed American pastor Brennan Manning once wrote: "When I get honest, I admit that I am a bundle of paradoxes." This simple statement could be used to describe most of us: beautiful and broken, self-assured and sheepish, optimistic and apathetic. Indeed, we are a bundle of contradictions, but so is this wondrous faith we call Christianity, one in which the first are the last, finding life means losing it, leading is synonymous with serving, and Jesus is both human and divine. This summer we return to the basics, not to untangle paradoxes but to become comfortable with them.

Heaven Cares
The Tender GOD of the Apocalypse

Revelation. Merely mention the book and conflicting emotions erupt. Delight! Distress. Courage! Cowardice. Hope! Horror. No other Bible book creates such responses. "Revelation?" Doesn't that mean an unveiling? "The revelation of Jesus Christ?!" Doesn't that promise comfort and assurance? Yet, simply perusing the book creates more confusion than clarity, more fear than faith. Could it be that we have missed something—something compelling and profound? Could it be that lost in beasts and chaos, confusion and destruction, we have missed the tender God of the apocalypse? The God revealed in Jesus? Blow the dust off the book. Crack open its pages. Pray. And steel yourself to encounter ... the wounded Lamb. Jesus. The One who cares about you!

The tender God of the Apocalypse.
